PREFACE.

THE aim and purpose of the BOSTON CHURCH AND MUSICAL DIRECTORY is very clearly embodied in its title-page. Boston has countless business and residential directories, but the CHURCH AND MUSICAL DIRECTORY is the only reference book issued devoted exclusively to the church and musical profession of this city. It may properly be called a "Blue Book" of the churches and professional musicians of Boston.

The clergy and musical directors and organists have had no directory belonging particularly to their profession to which they could turn for information. A determination to supply this deficiency as accurately as possible, regularly and in convenient form, has gained to the BOSTON CHURCH AND MUSICAL DIRECTORY the support and endorsement necessary to make the book almost indispensable to the profession.

The present volume has been embellished with illustrations of over fifty churches of Boston and vicinity, and also portraits of nearly two hundred professional artists in the musical field of this city.

The publisher begs to improve this opportunity to thank again C. A. Woodman, Esq., of Oliver Ditson Company, F. A. Tubbs, Esq., Albert W. Finlay, Esq., Mrs. Herbert Johnson, Stephen Townsend, Esq., George Judson Parker, Esq., Charles Delmont, Esq., and other good friends for generous words of suggestion and valuable assistance in the compilation of this work.

WILLIAM GRANT JAMES.

[NOTE.—In some instances letters forwarded for information have been returned unopened, the postal authorities being unable to find the addresses that were supposed to be accurate. In other cases the blanks have been returned repeatedly with the names supplied, but with many of the addresses omitted. In every event where the addresses were withheld or not obtainable, the individual can usually be reached by addressing in care of the minister of the church.]

Miss Swift gave a delightful recital for children at the Tuileries. A fine and appreciative audience of little folks greeted Miss Swift, who sang the children's songs in her usual delightful manner. Her group of "Flower Songs" and of "Dolly Songs" were most heartily applauded. Miss Swift has unique talents in this particular line, and the children appreciate it and greet her with enthusiasm.

SIGNOR RICCARDO LUCCHESI, of Bologna, Italy, has come to Boston to fill the position of vocal teacher at the New England Conservatory of Music. Besides having made his musical studies with the best instructors of the Bologna Conservatory of Music, he is a University graduate.

He passed several years in Western cities, principally in San Francisco, where he enjoyed a prominent position and made a great number of successful pupils, now leading musicians.

Signor Lucchesi is well known also as a composer. His songs are written in the highest modern form. Some of them are published, others are in the course of publication by Thompson Co., Schirmer Co., and A. P. Schmidt, of Boston; Church & Shaw Co., of New York; T. Ingram Co., of Denver; B. Curtaz Co., of San Francisco, Cal.; and Gindici and Strada of Milan. He has also composed for orchestra. His "Francesca da Rimini," a scene for soprano and orchestra, brought him the honor of election to the Manuscript Society of New York, and his "Ouverture Solennelle," for orchestra and chorus, in memory of King Humbert, caused much favorable comment.

A great part of his compositions were destroyed by the San Francisco fire, yet he succeeded in saving his Trio, Quintet, "Concerto Romantico," "Francesca da Rimini," "Ouverture Solennelle," "Missa Brevis," several of his pianoforte pieces, and his songs.

No doubt our musical community will appreciate the artistic efforts of Signor Lucchesi, whose wide reputation, both in Europe and America, and large experience will recommend him as a thorough master of his art and a most capable teacher.
